order of: S. C. Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.

Clemson's All-America candidate, tight end Bennie Cunningham, hauls in one of his 22 receptions of last year. In the first eight games of '74, Cunningham has 19 catches and five have been for touchdowns. The 6-5, 252-pounder is a junior from Seneca.

FOOTBALL

Is it true that behind every good man there stands a woman?

Seven Clemson football players think so. They're married.

Susan Cobb, wife of center Maret; Cindy Burgess, wife of place kicker Bobby; and Jessie Murray, wife of offensive guard Al, help make their husbands good players by accepting their "other wife"—football—as an important part of their lives too.

They have accepted football, and instead of demanding equal time, they are willing to let the "other wife" come first during the gridiron season.

One of the first questions these women are asked about their husbands is how much they eat. Most fans wonder about the eating habits of their idols and have visions of pounds and pounds of food being shoved in at one clip.

Contrary to popular belief, "They don't eat as much as you might think," said Cindy.

Whereas the wives don't have to worry about keeping the cupboard well supplied during football season, off-season their cooking is put to the test.

Football players are picky eaters, they all agree.

Jessie said that most players, including her husband, are concerned about their weight and are constantly gaining or losing. She admitted, however, that off-season their food budget doubles.

All three wives agree good-naturedly, that they definitely have grounds to be called "football widows."

WIDOWS

Cindy explained that during the season, husbands must eat three meals a day with the team and also spend Friday nights before the games with them.

"Sundays aren't even free," Jessie added, "because of meetings."

Therefore, a lack of understanding could present more problems for a player's marriage than for other students' marriages, and Susan, Cindy, and Jessie know it.

Susan said, "Maret's first responsibility is to the team. I've accepted the fact that he can't go out much with me during the season, and I've learned to put home affairs second."

The lonely plight of the football widow disappears, though, when the wives see their husbands in action on the field.

Jessie forgets those evenings spent alone when she sits in the stands. "It takes a lot to stay on the team," she said. "I feel so proud when I see Al running down the hill at the start of the game."

From the time the first whistle blows to the last second, the wives are practically on the field scrounging for the ball with their husbands.

They are happy when a play goes well and wonder what went wrong when it doesn't. And when her husband is at the bottom of a pile-up, the wife crosses her fingers for him to make it up.

All three admit that sometimes the yells from the crowd make them angry, especially when a player is hurt.

"If a player is hurt, no matter which team he's on, I don't like to hear the crowd laughing," said Jessie. "It makes me mad to hear players cut down because I know it takes weeks of practice to play just one game. Sometimes I can't hold my tongue."

Being wives of football players has put these women in some unique situations. Jessie tells of an incident when a photograph of a player being kissed by a girl appeared in a newspaper with Al's name under it. The player wasn't Al but a freshman with the same jersey number. Nevertheless, Jessie took a lot of ribbing from the girls at work.

Another unusual incident happened to Susan when she had to be rushed to the dentist by her husband, Maret. Although she was put under gas, she could hear the dentist and her husband discussing football. Soon the dentist became so engrossed in his conversation with Maret, he completely ignored Susan in the dentist chair. Being able to hear what was going on but unable to tell the dentist to pay attention to her shook Susan up.

Sure, being a football player's wife has its disadvantages, but Susan, Cindy and Jessie feel that there are two advantages to every disadvantage.

They've all enjoyed their years as football widows at Clemson. They like football season as much as their husbands.

Bennie Is For Real

By AL ADAMS
Clemson SID Office

Even though he didn't catch a pass against Wake Forest this past Saturday, the Demon Deacons knew that Bennie Cunningham was in Winston-Salem.

For this 6-5, 252-pound native of Seneca is not limited to just catching the Tiger aerials, but he is one of the mainstays in the Clemson blocking scheme to making the running attack successful.

"Bennie had a pretty good afternoon blocking," said receiver coach Larry Beckish. "He creates the outside alleys that are essential for the success of the outside veer attack."

Cunningham, an excellent candidate for All-America honors, and an almost sure bet for All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors, is the Tigers' leading pass receiver at the moment with 19 grabs good for 302 yards and five touchdowns, and all against some form of double coverage. His 30 points scored are leading Clemson in that category as well.

"The things that he can do to pressure a defense are something to see," Beckish continued, "especially the linebackers and cornerbacks whose responsibility it is to cover him." But that size would pressure almost any defensive player.

"He is so vital to our game plan and the scheme of offensive thinking that we try to accomplish," Beckish offered. "He opens up a lot of avenues with his size and ability."

So far this season Cunningham has had a pair of two-touchdown games. One of them came against Georgia Tech, in the Tigers' 21-17 victory over the Jackets, and the other was in Clemson's narrow and heartbreaking 29-28 loss to Southeastern Conference foe Tennessee.

Against the Volunteers, his two catches were good for 75 yards and each was worth a touchdown. This won him the weekly award given by the Atlantic Coast Conference as the outstanding offensive lineman.

"The amazing thing about Bennie," Beckish continued, "is that defenses are designed to take the short pass away from him, but when he gets his hands on the ball, he really hurts the opposition. Just like the Tennessee game where he caught only two passes, but scored on both of them. The defenses are keying on him, but he continues to hurt them with his size."

Cunningham, who played his prep ball just eight miles from the Clemson campus, gave indications of things to come in his freshman year when he caught 10 passes for a 15.7 average per catch and scored three touchdowns.

Then as a sophomore a year ago he led the Tigers in receptions with 22 and kept his reception average a respectable 15.5. He scored only once (against Texas A&M), but his receptions set up several other Tiger scores.

For the first time as a sophomore, his importance as a runner became evident as he carried the ball on the end around 11 times for a 6.6 average, with his long gainer being 19 yards.

Head coach Red Parker calls Cunningham "the best player at his position in collegiate football" and a majority of the professional scouts can't wait until Cunningham completes his eligibility after the 1975 season.

But before that happens, Cunningham still has at least 14 games to play for the Tigers. And Clemson coaches believe that only the tip of the iceberg has been seen so far in the form of Bennie Cunningham.

Four Georgia Tech defenders chase Bennie Cunningham (No. 85) after the big tight end hauled in a pass from Mark Fellers which gained 23 yards. The play came in Clemson's first touchdown drive which ended with a 12-yard reception from Fellers to Cunningham.

The UNC Series

What has become one of the great rivalries in the Atlantic Coast Conference is renewed today with the clash between Clemson and the University of North Carolina.

Although this series began in 1897, only five games were played between then and 1915. There was not another meeting for 42 years.

The series started again in 1957, four years after the ACC was formed and the second year after the late Jim Tatum returned to coach at North Carolina. There has not been an interruption since then and today marks the 18th consecutive meeting between the Tigers and Tar Heels and the 23rd in the long and colorful stretch of games.

Clemson defeated North Carolina last year, 37-29, at Chapel Hill, and this snapped a four-game Tar Heel winning streak. The Tigers lead in the overall series, 12 victories to 10 losses, and since the ACC was formed, Clemson is ahead 10 games to seven.

The games for the most part have been scoring thrillers. The lowest point total by both teams has been 16 points, but that was back in 1915 when UNC won, 9-7. Seventeen points have been the lowest for an ACC game between the two and that came in 1967 when Clemson won, 17-0.

North Carolina has averaged just over 16 points a game in the entire series and Clemson has put just over 15 per contest on the board.

The Tar Heels bring the nation's most accurate quarterback into Death Valley in Chris Kupec. The 6-3 senior has completed 70 of his 98 passes for an astonishing 71.4 per cent. Passing has accounted for 984 yards.

One other amazing aspect on Kupec is that he has not been intercepted all year long.

Kupec operates behind an offensive line which, in the words of Tiger head coach Red Parker, "really blows people off the line" Parker calls Tar Heel left guard Ken Huff "probably the best offensive guard in America."

Parker says Jim 'Boom Boom' Betterson and Mike Voight are "two premier runners" and sights Jimmy Jerome and Charles Waddell as "more than capable receivers."

The Tar Heels enter the game 5-3 overall and are 3-1 in the ACC while the Tigers are 4-4 and 2-2. The two teams have played three common opponents. North Carolina beat Wake Forest 31-0, Clemson clipped the Deacons, 21-9. UNC lost to Maryland 24-12, and the Tigers were dropped 41-0. Clemson edged past Georgia Tech, 21-17 while the Yellow Jackets nipped the Tar Heels, 29-28.

It all adds up to an interesting afternoon of football.

No. 1 Antrim Drive (By McAlister Square)

Welcome to Clemson Memorial Stadium. We're glad to have you here for another Saturday of Tiger Football and think you'll find the gridiron action among the most exciting in our conference.

There's another kind of excitement on our campus and we invite you to share that too. It has to do with fulfillment on the one hand and with anticipation on the other.

For more than 10 years we have planned our physical expansion to accommodate a student population of about 10,000 by 1975. As you can observe from a glance around you or a drive through the campus, we have several major construction projects under way. Not since the sixties, when the skyline changed dramatically, has there been as much concurrent expansion under way. This year's freshman class will be witness to more completion and initiation of construction during their educational career than any others have seen in a similar four-year period.

Just across the street from you is Fike Recreation Center, headquarters for Clemson's growing intramurals program, which is undergoing major renovation and expansion. The massive new structure at the rear of Fike will contain a swimming pool and diving tank plus other new facilities. In the middle of Johnstone Hall, visible from the loggia area, construction is about half finished on headquarters for Clemson's University Union program. Under renovation, the old Post Office building, now Mell Hall, will soon become offices for the Student Affairs staff.

On west campus an addition to the College of Architecture's Lee Hall is nearing completion. Construction began during the summer on Barre Hall, new home of the College of Forest and Recreation Resources and administrative offices for the College of Agriculture.

October 16 is groundbreaking day for Jordan Hall, a long-awaited and much needed Biological Sciences Center which will rise in the area just above Strode Tower. Nearby is the site for the College of Nursing's new $3.5 million facility which moved from dream to probable reality with the recently announced pledges of federal support totaling $2.2 million. Complete renovation and expansion of Agricultural Engineering's McAdams Hall will be started this year rounding out the planned physical expansion program.

We are equally excited by the continuing development of our academic programs. Perhaps at no other time in its history has Clemson been in a better position to achieve greatness as a university. During the next few years we anticipate significant changes in curriculum content as we are determined to produce the best possible opportunities for our students. One major innovation in a regional sense is the Southern Region Educational Board's Academic Common Market for Graduate Study. This permits a student at one university to enroll in graduate study programs at other universities in other states without paying out-of-state tuition rates. There are 17 such programs in South Carolina; 14 are at Clemson.

Welcome again to our campus. We're happy that you are with us in person today to share the football fun, and hope you'll be with us in spirit tomorrow as we continue our educational mission.

Bill McLellan, Director of Athletics

Clemson's athletic department is moving rapidly in the right direction mainly because it has a superb chief engineer in Bill McLellan, a man who became the school's third director of athletics Feb. 4, 1971.

Since the Hamer native assumed the department's top position, the Tiger sports' program has experienced a major face-lifting, and one which has caused quite a bit of excitement around the school.

Last December McLellan led a contingent into the Frank Johnstone Jervey Athletic Center as Clemson vacated the out-dated facilities of Fike Field House in place of the modern structure that is by far one of the finest in the entire country. Not only does the Center house administrative and coaches' offices, separate dressing facilities for all sports, and the ticket office, but it houses an auxiliary gym with a tartan floor and two playing courts, a dirt area for inside workouts, training and equipment rooms, steam room and sauna bath, in addition to other allied facilities necessary for an efficient athletic operation, including a weight room second to none.

Additionally, since McLellan has been Clemson's director of athletics, the Tiger track team has christened a nine-lane all-weather outdoor facility, the soccer program has developed into one of the best in the nation as the Tig booters have claimed two consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference titles and have been involved in two straight NCAA playoffs, not to mention the progress Clemson's football and basketball programs have made.

On the grid scene, for example, the old wooden seats in Clemson's Memorial Stadium have been replaced by aluminum ones which are more comfortable for the fans, dressing facilities under the stadium for game use by the Tigers and their opponents are second to no one's, and also during the McLellan era, three new practice fields, one equipped with the finest in lighting techniques are just out the door and a few steps away from the dressing areas in the Jervey Center.

Together with the Tiger baseball field, called "the finest playing surface in the South" by professional scouts and opponents as well, the beautiful 10,600-seat Littlejohn Coliseum across the street from the Jervey Center, the tennis complex that includes 14 lighted hard surface courts and a separate tennis house for office and dressing areas, and the new olympic-size swimming pool and separate diving tank which is being completed in Fike Recreation Center, McLellan has been the architect of one of the most modern and rapidly-developing college athletic programs in the nation.

But his sights have been on the entire Clemson family as well as he has been responsible for a tremendous boom in the intramural program for the student body in addition to the faculty and staff members at Tigertown. In fact, it has grown so fast that this program is being headed by three full-time staff members whereas it operated under the guidance of a part-time director just five short years ago. In making improvements for students as fast as he does for the athletic department, McLellan engineered a five-year plan, now in its second year, of mass growth for the intramural-athletic program.

Such is the saga of Bill McLellan, a loyal Clemson man who has been around Tigertown for almost 25 years, which includes his grid career under the legendary Frank Howard.

After earning a pair of football letters and a member of the 1952 Gator Bowl, McLellan graduated from Clemson in 1954 with a BS in agronomy, and with an MS in agricultural economics two years later.

And since his appointment as assistant business manager of athletics in 1958, he has worked his way, through football coaching, IPTAY, administrative and ticket duties, all the way to the top. And because he has worked so hard to put the Tigers on top, he has risen to the top as well. He's done it for one reason, his love for Clemson University.

He is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, and they have two daughters, Suzy, a freshman at Winthrop, and Arch Anna, and two sons, Bill and Cliff.

ARA-Slater's philosophy is a unique, systematic approach designed to achieve our most important goal: STUDENT SATISFACTION. This concept is a result of our experience with millions of students. We have the flexibility to understand your needs and the capability to satisfy them.

At Clemson, ARA demonstrates practical, new methods for providing nourishing, well-balanced meals to athletes, students and staff. Our corporate and regional specialists give ARA's dining service manager expert advice in planning menus, purchasing goods, controlling waste, utilizing labor. The support of this team effort is carried out daily in Schilletter Hall and Harcombe Commons, and at the Clemson House Buffeteria. It is our desire to serve students what they want and to accommodate them by providing this same efficient service for special events or festive holiday meals.

We're here to provide the type of service that will benefit the entire school and community. THAT'S WHAT WE THINK A DINING SERVICE IS ALL ABOUT.

Whatever you build, build it like you'd recruit your line.

Whether you're building a house, commercial building, or a football line, you want the same qualities: reliability, versatility, strength and staying power.

At Richtex Corporation of Columbia, we build these qualities into our brick with the same enthusiasm with which we support the Clemson Tigers.

Next time you're thinking about building something, think brick. Enjoy the game, and when you think brick, think Richtex.

Brick

Red Parker

Head Football Coach

He came to Clemson in December of 1972 with one goal in mind—to put claws back on the Tiger. He installed a new game plan called “Big Red’s Machine—The Tiger Triple,” and with it saw his gridders amass over 4,000 yards offensively. And in leading his footballers to a 5-6 record he caused opponents to look with respect and sometimes even a fear towards his team.

He’s no miracle worker, but Red Parker is one top notch football coach. And the biggest thing he’s got going for himself is the simple fact that he’s one heck of a guy, and one who is respected by not only his peers, his players, and the fans, but by everyone who comes in contact with him.

With this in mind, it’s no wonder that in 21 previous years in the coaching ranks, the Smilin’ Redhead from Hampton, Ark., has never served as anything less than a head coach, and that he has posted an overall record of 148-71-6, including a collegiate won-lost mark of 73-59-2.

A football, baseball, and track letterman at Arkansas A&M, Parker graduated in 1953 and at the ripe young age of 21, assumed the grid reins at Fordyce, Ark., High School, a school that was carrying a 22-game losing streak.

However, by the time the Redhead had worked his successful formula for winning into his eight-year stay at Fordyce, his grid achievements included a 37-game winning skein and a sparkling overall record of 75-12-4.

But the high school’s loss was a definite plus on the side of his alma mater as Parker returned to Arkansas A&M in 1961 to head up the grid fortunes. And although he ended a five-year stay with a 29-19-2 mark, his last three campaigns were by far his best, as Parker’s ’63, ’64, and ’65 teams posted a fine 24-5-1 record and had claimed a pair of conference championships.

The Redhead then journeyed to the State of South Carolina and took over the football duties at The Citadel in 1966, and remained at the Charleston institution through the 1972 season.

After installing a veer offense for the Bulldogs, Parker’s Cadets became the bully of the Southern Conference, and his 1971 team, which scored 366 points and posted an 8-3 mark, had 5,030 yards of real estate to rank the school fourth in the nation in the total offense department. A seven-year stand at The Citadel by Parker gave the ’Dogs a 39-34 record—a mighty fine showing for a school with 2,000 men and one which could only promise a recruit that he would leave the school as a man.

Then came Tigertown. He made no promises prior to his first season other than issuing a warning to opponents that the Tigers would be no easy game. The ’73 footballers won three more games than pre-season prognosticators said they would, and Clemson finished a strong third in the Atlantic Coast Conference behind N. C. State and Maryland, both of whom went on to post-season bowls.

Moreover, the Tigs produced 231 points last fall, more than any other Clemson team had managed since the ’59 Blue-bonnet Bowl champs scored 285. And most of all, every single member of last year’s team had one heck of a time playing for one heck of a coach.

And to coin an old Parker phrase, “A dollar to a donut” says that the Tigers will get better and better each year that the Redhead is at the helm. That’s why folks are saying, in reference to the upcoming season, “Excitement Galore—Clemson Football ’74.”

Parker is married to the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark., and they have two daughters, Vicki and Cindy, and a son, Jim Mack.

CLEMSON BASKETBALL '74-'75

Tates Locke called it one year ago when he said "This is the beginning of a new era in Clemson basketball history."

It was one year ago when the Tiger boss landed 7-1 Wayne "Tree" Rollins, a youngster out of the small town of Cordele, Ga.; and it was one year ago that Clemson's big center, in only his freshman year, led the Tigers to a 14-12 record, marking the first winning season for Clemson since the 1966-67 cagers went 17-8.

Starting in all 26 varsity games, Tree paced the Tigers in shooting percentage (.543) from the floor and rebounding (12.2), and was second in scoring with a 12.4 mark. Additionally, he blocked 106 shots and was tabbed as the premier big man in the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference, the nation's toughest cage league, by Maryland All-American Len Elmore.

But planted around the Tigers' Tree are some other experienced performers, headed by co-captains Van Gregg and 6-9 forward Wayne Croft.

Gregg has led Clemson's scoring attack the past two seasons, pumping in an average of 13.8 points per game last winter, and Croft, after a mediocre sophomore year, turned in what has to be the greatest turnaround ever by an ACC performer.

Not only did Croft average 11.2 points a contest, but he was second to Tree in rebounding with an 8.0 mark, and together with Rollins gave Clemson a rugged one-two inside punch.

Returning lettermen include 6-1 Jo Jo Bethea (3.3), 6-9 Scott Conant (2.9), 6-0 Bruce Harman (3.7), 6-8 Marty Patterson (3.7), and 6-9 Charlie Rogers (5.5).

And up from last year's Cub unit are 6-8 David Brown (16.1), 6-6 Andy Butchko (11.1), 5-11 Kenny Davis (13.2), and 6-2 John Franken (15.7).

Moreover, Locke has gone out and turned in the best overall recruiting job ever in Tiger cage history, as the fifth-year coach landed two bona fide prep All-Americans, and a pair of others with credentials that would put a flutter in the hearts of most coaches.

Stan Rome brings to Tigertown a 32 point per game scoring average and the award as the nation's best athlete as selected by PARADE Magazine.

At 6-5, Rome was All-American in both football and basketball at Valdosta, Ga., High School, and if he plays in the backcourt he could team up with 6-4 Baltimore, Md., All-American Skip Wise, a whiz who was voted as the top guard in the nation by a panel of college coaches which included UCLA's John Wooden.

Darlington's 6-6 Colon Abraham scored over 28 points a game as a prepster and Williston's Jim Howell, at 6-5, averaged 27 a game, and no doubt the entire incoming frosh foursome will give the vets a run for a starting berth this season.

So the 1974-75 Tiger cage slate looms to be the most exciting year yet in Clemson basketball history.

ACC Comment: Why I Enjoy Playing Football

CHARLES WADDELL

DICK AMBROSE — University of Virginia: "The philosophy that football is not just a game but a way of life is one that I have come to realize over the years. The many days of sweating, rejoicing, and sometime crying, that have made up the 11 years that I have participated in organized football, have been a worthwhile experience. Football has led to many good friendships and to the formation of a desire to be the best while enlisting oneself for a cause. The cause is winning. However the desire to win should not become an obsession, because football is a game and games were designed to have winners and losers. The most important thing that one can get from football is to learn about people and about oneself."

CHARLES WADDELL — University of North Carolina: "I enjoy participating in all sports, but football is by far my favorite. There are a number of reasons for this. One is simply because I enjoy the competition. And the great rivalries among the schools in the Atlantic Coast Conference make the competition tough. I've also found football rewarding in that I've met a great number of people and made a lot of friends. Playing football at North Carolina has also opened the door to opportunities which may help me in the future. But mainly, football has helped me to discipline myself in many areas and has certainly better prepared me for the future."

JIMMY WILLIAMSON

LEW HENDERSON

JIMMY WILLIAMSON — Clemson University: "There are many reasons why I love to play the game of football. One of these reasons is that I love the competition that it offers Saturday after Saturday. At Clemson I have had the opportunity to play against the best players in the nation. That is what the game is all about — playing against the best. Another reason is there are many lessons to be learned on the gridiron that can also be applied to the game of life, a game that is full of hard knocks and adversity. By participating in football I will be better prepared to cope with the problems of everyday life. A final reason is there are so many wonderful people associated with sports, and I have had the opportunity to associate with some of these people."

LEW HENDERSON — Wake Forest University: "Football means a lot to me. As many know, I came to Wake Forest without a scholarship . . . because I loved football and wanted to play on this level, I pushed myself hard enough to earn a spot on the team. As I look back on the hard time I had at first, all the work and all, I can say I'd do it again the same exact way. You see, to me, football gives me the opportunity to work with so many different type people. . . . People and competition, that's what it's all about, to me. At Wake Forest, we have players from all over the country, and it's a real thrill to form close association with these guys. It's just as thrilling to get to know the coaches, as well."

BOB SMITH — University of Maryland: "I have three main reasons for enjoying football. First, the game fulfills a need to compete which I believe is instinctive in man. Next, football develops a healthy situation of teamwork. You do your best so you won't let your teammates down or be the weak link. It's a good attitude. Third, football isn't as complicated as other things in life. As a result you can put in the work and see the results. There is satisfaction to being able to get results so quickly from your efforts. The first two reasons I've always had, and the third I've developed recently. They all contribute to my enjoyment of the game."

BRUCE SNYDER — Duke University: "Football has been a large part of my life and a most enjoyable aspect of my development as an individual. The fine association with my fellow players and coaches has made a lasting contribution on my life. I have enjoyed the physical fitness benefits I have derived from the participation in football. Also, working together with many individuals as a team, both in winning and losing situations, has helped me learn a lot about myself. Football has taught me a lot about dedication, the will to work hard in search of goals and also a sense of responsibility. Playing football has given me the opportunity to make many wonderful and loyal life-time friends."

BOB SMITH

BRUCE SNYDER

JUSTUS EVERETT — N. C. State University: "The competition, the association and the education are three reasons why I enjoy playing football. Playing on a football team requires me to humble myself and puts me in a learning situation. Successes and failures are clearcut. The competition allows you to see your accomplishments readily — on each and every play. Being able to use football as another way to learn helps me to develop a positive attitude toward life. As a civil engineering major, I've been fortunate enough to make the Dean's list every semester and be chosen first team Academic All-America, but I don't believe the classroom is the only place to learn. It's especially fun to play football because of the people that I have been associated with in the game, my teammates and coaches."

Black Cat Spooked 'Em Out

By Brent Breedin
Former Clemson SID

The fall of 1952 was one of injury at Clemson—one of physical injury to most of the football team's returning veterans of Orange and Gator Bowl fame, one of hurt egos to the coaching staff and fans.

A major exception was senior defensive guard Tom (Black Cat) Barton. He escaped the injury jinx and was credited by Boston sportswriters with placing a Halloween Night hex of his own on a strong Boston College team en route to selection on the 1952 Players' All-American second team.

Without question Barton's Halloween Night exhibition on the old Braves Field turf in Bost was the highlight of a distinguished football career. And it saved Clemson from experiencing total disaster.

The Tigers were 1-4 and Boston College 4-1 on Halloween of 1952. Coming off a 6-0 loss at the hands of the University of South Carolina, and with no possibility of a third straight bowl bid, Coach Frank Howard's team needed desperately to do a turnabout. With a healthy Billy Hair on offense, and a determined Barton on defense, Howard felt that his underdog Tigers could regroup in Boston.

The veteran Hair, who was to play his one outstanding game of the year on offense, put Clemson on the scoreboard early in the first quarter and helped his team mount its best offensive effort of the year until carried off the field in the third quarter with a torn knee ligament. Barton and his defensive platoon mates kept the pressure on Boston all-star quarterback Jim Kane throughout, with Barton personally throwing Kane for several long losses.

In the final analysis, the Tigers clinched victory early in the fourth quarter by moving Kane and his Boston mates backwards from their own 20-year line to the two on three downs, recovering a fumble at that point. A Clemson touchdown and extra point finished the night's scoring and gave the Tigers a satisfying 13-0 victory. Barton was in on all of the tackles setting up the fumble recovery which led to the score.

The Boston Globe account of the game ran like this:

"Superstitious? The Boston College football team is after losing a Halloween decision, 13-0, to a Black Cat. Yes, that's what the man said, 'Tom (Black Cat) Barton won that game for us.' We quote Frank Howard, Clemson coach:

"That Barton is a terrific guard on defense—one of the best I've ever seen. He was in on every play. His favorite pastime is rushin' the passer."

"Ask Jim Kane, Eagles' quarterback, who had trouble bending his elbow to attempt a pass. He was smeared time after time. And Barton was right there.

"When Tom came to school as a freshman, he weighted only 160 pounds,' chuckled Howard, a sort of poor man's Herman Hickman.

"What did you feed him?' the veteran mentor was asked.

"Just a steady diet of blocks and tackles,' came the reply, quicker than maple syrup could be poured over hot cakes."

Barton went on to play in the annual College All-Star Game in Chicago the following summer (1953) and then passed up a contract with the Pittsburgh Steelers in favor of a career in education. Today it's Dr. Thomas E. Barton, president of Greenville Technical College.

It still seems strange to think of "Black Cat" Barton of 1952 as a college president and holder of a doctorate degree from Duke University—and yet, one might have forecast as much.

Barton's secret to success on the gridiron was hard work and preparation. No one prepared harder for a game—particularly in studying scouting reports and motion pictures of the upcoming opposition—than he did. Such efforts frequently left the opposition in a state of consternation as evidenced by an episode in the Tigers' victory over Rice in 1951.

A rival tackle across from Barton looked up at his opponent and asked, "How do you know my name?" The cocky reply: "Boy, I know what you had for breakfast this morning."

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Brent Breedin served as Clemson sports information director during the time Tom Barton was making headlines for the Tigers. Now with the Council on Library Resources in Washington, D. C., Breedin recalls the Halloween Night in Boston when Barton was the 'fifth man' in the Boston College backfield.

IPTAY = SUCCESS

For the 10th consecutive year IPTAY funds have increased over those of the previous 12 months, and IPTAY '74 has just ended as the most successful year in the 40 years of the organization's history.

The club poured in 113 per cent of its goal from Sept. 1st, 1973 until the August 31, 1974 closing date, and the figure exceeded the previous year's amount by almost $100,000.

Moreover, in attaining the record-setting mark, every single county in South Carolina reached its respective quota, as did the State's of North Carolina and Georgia. Additionally, the other states, including foreign country contributions, reached 110 per cent of their established goal.

Colleton paced the Palmetto State counties with 189 per cent, followed by Dorchester (140), Chester (138), and a fourth-place tie among Aiken, Calhoun, and Marlboro with 137 per cent.

Next in per cent came Williamsburg (129), Dillon (127), and Cherokee and Edgefield with 123 each.

Again, Greenville County raised the largest contributions of any other county in the state with $96,700, ahead of Richland's $57,220.

The top 10 was rounded out with Pickens ($49,890), Anderson ($44,820), Spartanburg ($39,780), Greenwood ($19,610), Florence ($19,340), Lexington ($16,560), Orangeburg ($15,270), and York ($14,060).

The late Dr. Ruppert H. (Rube) Fike organized IPTAY in 1934 with one purpose in mind—to finance athletic scholarships. And since that date, not one single penny has gone for anything else other than scholarships for Clemson's 11 intercollegiate sports.

Thousands of student athletes have received an education because of IPTAY which may not have otherwise been possible.

Lewis Holmes, as president, led IPTAY '74, and thanks to his efforts, those of his officers, and of the more than 400 IPTAY representatives, our goal was met.

RECEIVERS

Tiger quarterbacks have these 28 hands to throw to this fall when Clemson takes to the air. 1-Jerry Davis, 2-Michael Gaddis, 3-Rut Livingston, 4-Richard Ibach, 5-Joey Walters, 6-Jeff Buesing, 7-Bennie Cunningham, 8-Harold Cain, 9-Rich Bollinger, 10-Brad Ashley, 11-Jim Lanzendoen, 12-Rickey Bustle, 13-Craig Brantley, 14-Mike Webber.

CENTERS

Each play starts with these players. A true snap by the center sets the Tigers in action. 1-Jay Kries, 2-Maret Cobb, 3-Ron Bowlan, 4-Wayne Neely, 5-Gregg Smith, 6-Kevin Kries.

RUNNING BACKS

These are the running backs who must handle the handoffs and the veer pitchouts from the quarterbacks. 1-Thomas Eley, 2-George Bosse, 3-Marvin Anderson, 4-Steve Jasinski, 5-Ronnie Smith, 6-Bob Coffey, 7-O. J. Tyler, 8-William Scott, 9-Tony Mathews, 10-Don Testerman, 11-Ken Callicutt, 12-Roger McCrary, 13-Leon Hope, 14-Pat Swisher, 15-Fritz Edwards.

Clemson's defensive backs take a look at Death Valley from Section GG (Green Grass), keeping in mind that there's a lot of real estate to cover when Tiger opponents start passing. 1-Harry Plexico, 2-Tony Rouse, 3-Eddie Crawford, 4-Dennis Smith, 5-Roy Eppes, 6-Rick Carter, 7-Lynn Carson, 8-Chris Clifford, 9-Dale Ulmer, 10-Malcolm Marler, 11-Brian Kier, 12-Peanut Martin, 13-Mike Cornell, 14-Jim Ness, 15-Bill Wingo, 16-Mark Lee.

These players—the defensive tackles and middle guards—are down in the trenches where the in fighting goes on. 1-Harry Lee Fulwood, 2-G. G. Galloway, 3-Willie Anderson, 4-Richard Shafer, 5-Jerome Hill, 6-Mark Strawbridge, 7-Ken Weichel, 8-Chuck Gordon, 9-George Jehlen, 10-Nelson Wallace.

WHEN IT COMES TO SEAFOOD,
WE KNOW THE SCORE

Ever since we opened our first Red Lobster restaurant, we've been dedicated to doing one thing well: serving the finest in seafood at reasonable prices in an informal, bring-the-whole-family atmosphere.

We've traditionally specialized in Florida seafood, but your nearest Red Lobster also features delicacies from nearly all the waters of the world—from Maryland to Alaska, and from Chile to South Africa.

Tiger fan or worthy opponent, you're always welcome at The Red Lobster. So plan to have dinner with us after the game. At our place, everybody wins.

The simple equation: planning + execution (know-how, teamwork, stamina, desire) = success. And, continuing success leads to Number One. Every team that gets to be Number One uses this formula to perfection. It also is the concept that has sparked the go and grow of Sandoz Colors and Chemicals. One key element in this goal calls for a largely expanded and completely modernized laboratory, warehouse, and office facilities in Charlotte to meet the growing needs of the textile industry in the Southeast.

IPTAY--

Special Recognition

For the first time in the history of Clemson IPTAY, every county in the State of South Carolina, as well as North Carolina and Georgia, went over the 100 per cent mark in their 1973-74 quota. Altogether, nearly $680,000 was raised during the year and it marked the 10th straight year an increase was seen in funds contributed to the club.

This was the third straight year that over a half million dollars had been realized by IPTAY. Every penny received by IPTAY since its beginning in 1934 has been used for athletic scholarships only.

On the following pages, we have listed those people and business organization who are being recognized by their permission for their interest and continued support of IPTAY.

If you're itching to fly but don't have the scratch, the Air Force may have the answer. One of the benefits of Air Force ROTC is flying lessons. Enroll in Air Force ROTC, you're off, and the sky's no limit.

If college tuition money is a problem, Air Force ROTC may once again be the answer. If you qualify, you may find you can get one of the many college scholarships Air Force ROTC offers. And that would mean full tuition, lab and incidental fees, textbook reimbursement, and a monthly allowance of $100.00.

Not a bad deal. Flying lessons, free tuition, and $100.00 a month, tax-free to use as you like.

Sound great? Ask me how you can put it all together in Air Force ROTC. My name is Col. Duncan W. Rabey, Jr., and I'm on campus at Tillman Hall, Third Floor, Ext. 656-3254.

Put It All Together in Air Force ROTC.

Clemson

Alumni Association

of Clemson alumni exists for only two purposes: to serve Clemson University and its students and to serve Clemson alumni. It does the second by providing an organization, records, programs and publications through which the alumni may stay abreast of the progress of their University and of their own personal, civic and professional development. It does the first by sponsoring the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund, dedicated to furthering the student welfare and educational mission of the University.

Summed up

Clemson's overall educational capability has been enhanced by some $4.5 million since the Loyalty Fund began in 1956. By and large, this has accrued to the benefit to Clemson students. To this end, I invite every Clemson alumnus and alumna to make a gift to Clemson each year through the Loyalty Fund. The only direct beneficiary is Clemson University and her students and alumni by reflection. This year's fund ends December 31. If you have not yet made your 1974 gift, please do so now/Lawrence V. Starkey '56, National Alumni President.

Thomas G. Clemson

Associates

The National Council

of the Clemson Alumni Association has recently established the Thomas Green Clemson Associates program to recognize those alumni who make significant gifts to Clemson through the Alumni Loyalty Fund over long periods of time. Each Associate of the founder of Clemson University who has been an Associate for five or more years receives a handsome personalized plaque that signifies his or her years of giving at this level in increments of five years. The bottom of the plaque provides space for five, ten, fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five year medallions. There are today over 400 Thomas Green Clemson Associates who are making Loyalty Fund gifts of $100 or more each year.

The plaque reads:

"... Name ... joins the founder of Clemson University in a dedication to higher education by making an annual gift of significance to the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund." Each alumnus and alumna is invited to become a Thomas Green Clemson Associate by making the desire known to the Alumni Association.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness

Where the Tigers play;

Here the sons of dear old Clemson,

Reign supreme always.

CHORUS

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph

And with all our might

That the Tiger's roar may echo

O'er the mountain height.

Words by A. C. Corcoran, '19

Music by Dr. Hugh McGarity

Over the years, Zenith color TV has earned a reputation for dependability and picture excellence no other color TV can match.*

And today's Zenith solid-state Chromacolor II backs up that reputation with a combination of features no other color TV can offer.

The famous Chromacolor picture tube that set a new standard of excellence in color TV. A patented Power Sentry voltage regulator that protects components. And a rugged, 100% solid-state modular chassis for long-life dependability.

It's the best way we know to make sure, at Zenith, the quality goes in before the name goes on.[™]

CHROMACOLOR II

*For the third straight year, a nationwide survey of independent TV service technicians has named Zenith, by more than 2 to 1 over the next best brand, as the color TV needing fewest repairs. The same survey rated Zenith as the highest-quality color TV, as the one with the best picture, and as the one service technicians would buy for themselves today. Survey details on request.
